

Cannibal World

Rising sun on green earth
Life's warm breath, freely taken
Absorbing life teeming beneath
All illusion -- its only death.
Cannibal world rank with darkness
Beautiful and enticing to the eye
Unfailingly deadly
World swollen with life -- living dead
Death giving life, life feeding death.
Living and dead, dead and living
All the same, always together
Beckoning Nature calls
She gives light and with it dark
Life to one and death to another
Life's maze of complexity
Affluent, produces humanity
Man too must pay the toll
Bitterly protesting his insolvency
Nature -- relentless collector to be sure

Collects debts large and small in full

Cannibal world, ever growing, always feeding.
